LIST OF CONTRACTORS, SUPPLIERS

&

CONSULTANTS OFFERING ADVICE

&

SERVICES INVOLVING REMEDIAL WORK

FOR

RADON GAS

COPYRIGHT © THE RADON COUNCIL - MAY 2018 – ISSUE 5

INTRODUCTION

The Radon Council came into being in 1990 and is the Independent non-profit making Self Regulatory Body for the radon industry and should not be confused with a trade association. Its formation was welcomed in the Interim Report of the Parliamentary Select Committee on Indoor Pollution, which called upon industry to provide a solution to the radon problem. The first objectives were to identify the “cowboy” operators and dubious training courses then in practice. Later there followed a first edition of a training manual and an agreed Code of Practice for the industry. The Council has now drawn up an Approved List of Contractors offering advice and services involving remedial work for radon gas.

Please note that the following firms are presently approved by the Council and entitled to refer only to that fact on company stationery, or publicity material. Companies are not entitled to claim that we have in any way “certified” or “endorsed” their work. It should be noted however, that each of the Contractors on this list has signed a written undertaking to follow the Council’s Code of Practice and work guidelines given in the current edition of The Radon Manual and to follow appropriate legislation. Where appropriate, contractors have successfully completed the Radon Council training course. Any complaints from consumers must be sent to The Radon Council in writing. Any Contractor found not to be following the Code of Practice may be excluded from future lists.

IMPORTANT HELP

It is hoped that you will find this list helpful. You will note that it has been divided into various categories to simplify any enquiry. Each company is only allowed one entry, which means that they may not appear to be local, however, companies shown to operate nationally will by definition be able to assist with any enquiry. This will give you the best professional service in a difficult technical field. The Council cannot expand the list at present, because the amount of remedial work being carried out across the UK is insufficient to occupy the current available firms full-time. A substantial expansion of building contractors to the list would inevitably mean many consumers offering work to totally inexperienced operators in this specialist field. Beware of this risk and only entrust your work to a competent and experienced operator. This listing which can be sent by post also appears on our Radon Council website www.radoncouncil.org that has been produced in conjunction with several Universities and is a useful source of further information.

Many companies offer a long-term testing service (3 months or more) and some can provide a reliable short-term testing service (7-10 days), which is very useful for conveyancing, or other reasons.

Caution:- The Council is aware that some organisations are operating in the UK offering “Instant” radon sampling measurements using portable measuring equipment. Because radon levels can and do vary considerably throughout the day any measurements of less than 4 days should be avoided. It is important to note that this issue is only valid until 30th April, 2019. For your own protection do not use an out of date list.
